Hill Physicians Reports Another Year of Strong Revenues in 2017

Leading IPA's investments and expansions ensure its present stability and future success

SAN RAMON, CA (June 19, 2018) – Hill Physicians Medical Group, California's largest independent physician association, has announced its financial results for the 2017 calendar year. The company's total operating revenues for 2017 were $472 million, and its net income was $5.5 million. Hill Physicians remains one of the only independent physician associations that publically shares its financial results.

Hill Physicians' leadership attributes its financial and operational successes to several strategic business developments. "2017 was a transformative year for us. We increased our reach farther north by expanding into Grass Valley, and added additional members and providers in our existing territories by assimilating many physicians of the Muir Medical Group IPA. We also began a promising foray into the PPO market," said David Joyner, Chief Executive Officer. "Looking to the future, we intend to continue pursuing our operational and growth strategies while staying true to our mission of providing high-quality, patient-focused care."

In 2017, Hill Physicians also made significant, targeted investments to upgrade its technological infrastructure. Many of these upgrades were aimed at physician practices and included the ongoing implementation of HillChart, the company's version of Epic's electronic health record system.

"Hill Physicians remains a financially strong and operationally stable healthcare organization," stated Timothy Richards, Chief Financial Officer. "Last year was another strong year. Year-to-date outcomes suggest that 2018 will be similarly successful."
